Subject: Barrington excavation project and natural gas lines

Cindy,

Today we receive the following from Unutil:

Unutil procedures related to blasting activities are as follows:

- Any activities with-in 100 feet of our facilities requires a pre-survey and post-survey after work completion
- All excavations require contractors to call Dig Safe; this is part of the New Hampshire Public Utilities 800 rules and regulations requiring all member companies to be notified of excavation and blasting activities in the State of New Hampshire

Unutil is a member of Dig Safe. We currently have a 2000 foot buffer from our gas facilities. This means that when we receive a Dig Safe ticket for locations where we have no gas in the area, we then asses any impact to our facility. If there is an impact, we develop a remediation plan.

The location you're talking about we see no immediate impact to our system that requires remediation.

If any resident would like any additional information they can call (866) 933-3820.
